The Other “Some believe you can have conversion without discipleship. I believe that the proof of conversion is discipleship.” Hull asserts that present day evangelism's separation of salvation and discipleship can be traced back to an emphasis on grace to the exclusion of discipleship and has kept the church from clearly defining what it means to be a follower of Jesus.

The Other models of evangelism and discipleship fail to actually produce followers of Jesus. He looks at the importance of recovering a robust view of the gospel and taking seriously the connection between conversion—answering the call to follow Jesus—and discipleship—living like the one we claim to follow.

Conversion and Discipleship is a beautiful diagnosis of where the American and Western Church have missed the Gospel and replaced it with something that frees us from the pesky scriptural demand to become like Jesus. But more than a diagnosis, it is a prescription for what we can move towards in order to reclaim biblical discipleship.
